Introduction

Welcome to the Euronet MRPH Board and Leads Annual Report 2022!
This document intends to summarise the work developed in this term. Having a report will allow future teams to look back and detect former issues and successes to better design the work they are responsible for.
The report is structured in two sections: the annual report and the financial report. In the former, it includes main achievements, as well as main challenges that the team faced. In the latter, you can find the final balance as of December 1st 2022.
For an easier creation of this report, we divided it per section, and each section is related to a specific position within the Board and Leads.

President

David Peyre-Costa, France

Euronet MRPH is a great organisation, strong in its international collaboration.
Our goals were to involve the European intern networks as much as possible. To do this, we regularly organised individual meetings with each National committee, with the aim of strengthening our collaboration and getting to know each other better.
We are proud of the exchanges we had and what we did. Euronet is an organisation with incredible potential. With its strong membership, research projects, internship connections and network, Euronet is an organisation with incredible potential.

To summarise the main actions carried out this year:

- Eurotuesday, the third Tuesday of the month where we invited speakers from the field of public health to present their work and inspire the European residents.
- Euronet Spring meeting in Lyon: More than 180 interns from all over Europe. This first meeting in person post COVID was attended by speakers from WHO, OECD, IARC and more.
- WHO youth council : Euronet is now a member and has a representative place in the WHO youth council. This council aims to represent the youth in the field of health. Euronet is currently leader of the working group on mental health. This newly created council sees its representatives renewed every two years.

More than ever, Euronet is an organisation whose management requires to be proactive, available and attentive. It is up to the office to ensure the good connection with the national committees. It is essential to promote Euronet through the national associations of public health residents, every year. Without momentums and highlighting the existence of our organisation, the risk is to lose visibility, importance and credibility

My approach regarding this year was clear, faithful to EuroNet MRPH philosophy, I trusted my team and gave every member of this brave B&L freedom to explore and develop their projects. I took seriously all the efforts made by them, keeping in mind that they do this altruistically and in their spare time. I had it clear in my mind: contributing with EuroNet

1. Resilience, which implies flexibility.
2. Unity, as never forgetting that EuroNet MRPH represents 10 NA and 4 IM.

3. Communication, a key value to improve human relationships.
4. Transparency, as a key value to build trust.

The last two years as vice president and then president have been a great learning experience. Euronet is strong with its members of various origins. Diversity is our strength, the quality of our European training during our public health residency, unique.

Finally, I can not thank enough all the efforts made by all the contributors and participants in our working groups (research, communication, webmaster, winter meeting OC, internships). I wish you to enjoy EuroNet MRPH as much as I did (or even more) during the upcoming years.

Vice-President

Giovanna Failla, Italy

Intro

The Vice President has the crucial role to support the President in both coordinating the Board and Leads works and represent the whole network internationally.

Main Achievements:

The main achievements of the mandate as Vice President during the year 2022 were:

- Euronet is today a member of the World Federation of Public Health Associations (WFPHA). WFPHA is the only global professional society representing and offering the broad field of public health on a worldwide scale to improve people's health in today's globalised world. WFPHA represents over 5 million public health professionals worldwide;
- The Who Youth Council, a prestigious initiative through which WHO promotes Youth Engagement. Youth representatives from health and non-health organisations and movements feature the Who Youth Council. The Youth Council is a dynamic network that will amplify young voices and experiences while leveraging their energy, expertise and ideas to improve public health;
- Stronger collaboration with European National Public Health Residents Associations;
- Organisation of the Eurotuesdays, the monthly teleconference the third Tuesday of the month: we invited speakers with interestings careers pathways in the field of Public Health;
- Organisation of the Euronet Spring meeting in Lyon in presence: more than 180 colleagues from all over Europe joined the first meeting in person after the pandemic break, having the opportunity to be inspired by interventions of different speakers from WHO, OECD, IARC and others;
- Coordination of the research project started during the previous mandate in 2021, which led to the oral presentation during the EUPHA Conference 2021. The project has been thoroughly deepened and the original research was submitted to an international journal (actually in review);
- Organisation of the Winter Meeting that will take place on the 17th december: coordination of the organisation, search for speakers, promotion of the communication campaign.

Main Challenges:

- Strengthen the network by involving colleagues from countries where the residency has a different organisation (i.e., Germany).

General Secretary

Ambrogio Cerri, Italy

As a General Secretary, my role was to ensure transparency and fairness in all the bureaucratic but essential aspects of our Organisation, as listed below:

- Reporting all activities accomplished by EuroNet, like to redact the minutes of the TeleConferences and Meetings;
- Archive all of our documents, as the Statute, the Policies and the Procedures;
- Organise Meeting and TCs agenda, coordinating interventions and speakers and providing technical assistant;
- Control the election and voting processes and monitor EuroNet's mailbox regularly.

Our organisation is based on basic procedures to function properly and my mandate was to provide it, guaranteeing a solid link between every member of the Board and Leads and the National Commissions, with the purpose to improve the efficiency and the strength of the Network itself.
Ultimately, the 2022 mandate was characterised by reaching new standards of automatization and organisation, managing to cope with the emerging needs after the surge of 2021 CoViD-19 pandemic, which reduced the activities of EuroNet in the past year.

Main Achievements:

- Create a telegram group and telegram channel as a substitute of the whatsapp group, that have reached the maximum participants;
- Update the EuroNet Statute, the Policies and the Procedures, that it was renewed through voting process by National Commissions in the 16th of September 2022;
- Organise, with the collaboration of the webmaster, an automatic replying system for the new memberships on the EuroNet website.

Main Challenges:

- Try to recreate link with Turkish NC, through the support of the turkish residents;
- Try to start up a partnership with The WHO Regional Office for Europe (WHO/Europe), through the contact with Dr. Azzopardi-Muscat;
- Renewed collaboration with ASPHER, EUPHA and EUPHAnxt during the European Public Health Conference 2022 in Berlin.

Treasurer

Fabiana Cazzorla, France

Main Achievements:

- Legal administration: change notified to service-public.fr
- Invoice sent to the national associations in November 2022
- Create an annual fee based on the basic budget of the year before to make a more coherent fee
- Handle the spring meeting budget

Main Challenges:

- Try to get Croatia and Turkey back in the network. They didn’t pay the annual fee in 2021 (waiting for the fee 2022). We tried to contact them without any answer.
- To find an international online bank. Multiple alternatives were investigated, there is a necessity to have a french bank because of the legal address of the association, and the alternatives for associations are expensive. For the moment we stay with the actual bank Societé Générale.
- Fundraising campaign: different institutions have been listed, for the moment Santé publique France have been contacted, without any answer.
- Try to install an equitable fee based on the number of residents per country. At the moment it is difficult to have a reliable overview of the number of residents per country.

Research

Marta Caminiti, Italy

As Research Lead, my main goal was to spread the culture of quality research among the members of EuroNet MRPH. I committed to opening new research groups, supporting every coordinator in achieving their goals, transitioning from one research project active in 2021 to three active research groups in 2022. I coordinated a systematic review project, in which I focused my approach on making the group learn the proper methodology of systematic reviews rather than rushing towards the production of an article. I organised a webinar on conflicts of interest in research, in order to raise awareness on how private interests can impact on the quality of the research evidence we produce, stressing on the role public health specialists can have in the modern scientific landscape. I worked all year side by side with my fellow companions from the Board and Lead, trying to broader EuroNet MRPH horizons organising meetings, teleconferences and scientific contests, redacting an handover manual for EuroNet meetings, reviewing EuroNet's Statute, including new members in our EuroNet family.

Main Achievements:

- Three active research projects :
    - "Survey on public health residents' mental health":
        - Coordinator: Dr. Giovanna Failla; Supervisor: Dr. Anca Vasiliu (MD, PhD);
        - Active members: 19
        - Description: This group started its work in March 2021. During 2022, we focused on the revision of the manuscript and the submission of the paper. We submitted the paper in August 2022 and we re-submitted the paper in November 2022, after addressing the peer-reviewer comments;
        - Achievements: paper submission to "Frontiers in Public Health" (currently under revision);
        - Next steps: publication of the paper.
    - "Systematic review on burden and quality of life of caregivers for children and adolescents with schizophrenia (SyREN)":
        - Coordinators: Dr. Marta Caminiti and Nuno Do Amparo; Supervisor: Dr. Laura De La Torre (Cochrane Library);
        - Active members: 23
        - Description: This group started its work in January 2022, with team building and an annual time-schedule. Members could decide to participate as active members or just as observers, in order to learn how to perform a systematic review. From February to April, we focused on self training on the methodology of systematic reviews and we dedicated ourselves to finding the literature gap regarding our topics of interests, dividing the group in two teams. After we decided to work on caregivers, in May and June we worked on the PICO and our inclusion/exclusion criteria. In July, we started redacting our research protocol and writing the search strategy. October and November were dedicated to the screening calibration process.

        - Achievements: 16 online meetings; redaction of the research protocol; calibration of the screening process; submission of a workshop proposal for the World Public Health Congress 2023 (WCPH 23), in collaboration with La Consulta's "Mental Public Health" research group;
        - Next steps: submission of the research protocol; ultimating the screening process; organisation of the workshop for the WCPH.
    - "Artificial intelligence in public health":
        - Coordinators: Dr. Alessandro Berionni and Dr. David Rocchi; Supervisor: Prof. Caterina Rizzo (University of Pisa);
        - Active members: 15
        - Description: This group started in September 2022. It collects many residents with a high level of expertise on the topic of artificial intelligence. The group aims at performing a systematic review: therefore, they are now working on the PICO, the inclusion/exclusion criteria and the search strategy.
        - Achievements: 3 online meetings; abstract submission for the WCPH 23;
        - Next steps: opening a call for new participants; writing the research protocol; starting the screening process.
- Organization of two European Scientific Contests during the Spring Meeting (Lyon, April 2022) and the Winter Meeting (Online, December 2022).
    - 21 abstracts submissions;
    - 13 oral presentations;
    - 10 residents participated as jury members.
- Webinars on "Conflict of interest in research" with Dr. Alice Fabbri, Public Health Specialist from the University of Bath, UK (Online, April 2022);
- Participation in the writing of the "Meeting handover manual" (European Scientific Contest section);
- Collection of all the material useful for the management of the research area in an organised google drive folder, in order to facilitate the handover to the next Research Lead and ensure continuity;
- Presentation of EuroNet MRPH Research Projects during La Consulta's meeting on "Mental Public Health" (Pavia-Italy, June 2022);
- Participation as member of the Organization Committee of the Spring Meeting (Lyon, April 2022);
- Participating in the revision of EuroNet MRPH Statute;
- Organisation of monthly EuroNet TeleConferences (TC), particularly March TC (Angelo D'Ambrosio, ECDC) and June TC (Ana Vracar, People's Health Movement).

Main Challenges:

- Updating the research page on EuroNet MRPH website: our Webmaster did a great job this year in restructuring the EuroNet website. However, the research page is still to be updated: many website interventions were requested before approaching the page dedicated to research projects, and in autumn I lacked in prioritising the update of the research page. In handover, I will leave the information needed to update the research page.
- Reactivate working groups: EuroNet's working groups have not been active for years. The residents that worked on them are now public health specialists and hard to contact. In handover, I will leave the proposal to create a survey to ask the network what kind of working group would be interested in opening.

Internships

Giulio Borghi, France

One of the main objectives of EuroNet MRPH is to facilitate exchanges and internship opportunities for PH medical residents in all the European countries taking part in the association. As Internships lead, my main role was to help residents to identify potential hosting organisations/institutions based on their preferences and to get in touch with them. Managing internship requests, gathering and sharing information with the network, and improving our internship service were the main activities that I've carried out during this year. All this work was done with the precious collaboration of other members of the B&L (Communication Lead and Webmaster) and of National Commissions.

Main Achievements:

- One of the main objectives of this mandate was to update the internship section of the EuroNet MRPH website:
    - Meetings were organised with residents and national commissions of 7 countries (Spain, France, Italy, Slovenia, UK, The Netherlands, Portugal) in order to present the project and to collect information about open rotations.
    - In collaboration with the Webmaster, the content and layout of the new internship section of the website was conceived and created. The section was structured in the four following sections:
        - Main internship page: gathering all the information about the internship service provided by EuroNet MRPH.
        - Open internship positions page: gathering all the open internship positions that the internship lead has found.
        - Traineeship and internship programmes page: listing traineeship and internship programmes in different institutions.
        - Rotations page: providing an example of open rotations for local public health residents that might be interesting also for international public health residents.
    - In collaboration with the Webmaster, the new internship page was presented during the EuroTuesay conference of November 2022.
- An internship day teleconference was organised, where an invited speaker from the OECD presented open internship opportunities for public health residents within the institution.
- Concerning internship applications:
    - 57 applications were received and managed during the year.
    - A tool to follow and record internship applications was created.
    - Multiple online meetings were organised with residents looking for an international training experience in order to help them to identify possible opportunities.
- 22 open internship positions were shared with the network.
- An internship service evaluation questionnaire was created and shared with people who used the internship service.
- The internship section of the EuroNet status was updated.

Main Challenges:

- Dynamic and fast changing environment concerning internship offers and open positions.
- Finding organisations/institutions willing to participate in our internship days teleconferences in order to present open internship positions to the network.

Communication

Francesca Zanni, Italy

As a Communication Lead, my work in the year 2021-2022 focused on several areas: 1) Developing EuroNet's communication campaigns both conceptually and graphically; 2) Daily managing EuroNet's social media (Facebook, Instagram, Linkedin, Twitter, Telegram); 3) Guaranteeing the publication of two issues of EuroNews - EuroNet's Newsletter - per year; 4) Liaising with other Leads and members of the Board, to support initiatives in every section of EuroNet with appropriate communication. During the year 2021-2022, I worked to give EuroNet a readily recognizable visual identity on social media. I also put up a Newsletter Team comprising four people external to the Board and Leads, which shall be renovated each year. Further areas for development are: investing in video-making and video-development; giving a further structure to the Newsletter Team (envisioning at least the Communication Lead as Supervisor, and then a responsible Coordinator within the team itself) and/or establishing a Newsletter Lead; publishing 2 more newsletters per year.

Main Achievements:

- Set up of a Newsletter Team
- Provision of a recognizable visual identity to EuroNet communication materials
- Created hype around EuroNet's activities: mean number of people/month who visualised our posts on Facebook and Instagram at least once were 2418; mean number of interactions with our posts on Facebook and Instagram/month were 295.
- Fruitful and regular collaboration with other Leads and members of the Board
- Daily management of EuroNet's social media
- Timely communication of EuroNet's events and initiatives

Main Challenges:

- Publishing more than 2 newsletters per year resulted to be challenging because of the workload required for publishing each issue, compared to the relatively low density of initiatives in the network
- Giving the Newsletter Team an autonomous structure and a coordinator, so that they can work autonomously on the publication of EuroNews, with the Communication Lead supervising the process
- Managing communication in the network means daily dedicating one or more hours to EuroNet

Webmaster

Bertrand Galet, France

Aside from the maintenance job and other strictly technical aspects, the webmaster lead is mostly about providing ideas, tools, and solutions to facilitate and highlight your team's endeavours. Your missions rely on taking initiatives and collaborating to make things connect altogether. I like to compare it to a support role, as it works best in symbiosis with someone working on the field.

Main Achievements:

- See 1. from the Internship Lead report above
- Bringing back the website to life after COVID stalled the network's activities for almost two years
- Optimising user's experience by performing in-depth updates

Main Challenges:

- Figuring out previous webmasters work and adapting to it
- Finding time and energy to keep track with my colleagues' work and initiatives
- Dealing with both CLISP and Euronet websites at the same time

Meetings

Spring meeting : Lyon 2022

After two years of absence of an in presence meeting, finally a call was launched for the spring meeting 2022. Two cities have candidates for the organisation: Turin and Lyon. After voting, the NC have elected Lyon as city for the spring meeting 2022.
The Organising Committee (OC) was composed of the following members in the respective Working Groups:
Group leader and secretary: Fabiana Cazzorla
Treasury, venue: Chiara Gottarelli
Partnership: David Peyre-Costa, Chiara Gottarelli, Beranger Thomas
Scientific program: Giulio Borghi, David Peyre-Costa,Giovanna Failla
Communication: Francesca Zanni, Giulio Borghi, Bertrand Galet
Social Program: Kate Ndocko and Chiara Gottarelli
Accommodation, workshops: Lucia Borlado-Salazar
Inscription: Sander de Souza
ESC: Marta Caminiti

Volunteering: Virgile Korsec, Romain Saux, Ambrogio Cerri

The Spring Meeting 2022 was an opportunity for our associations to forge new links and strengthen existing links with our partners.
Different local and international institutions have been contacted as partners, while keeping an eye on the ethical and social side. In particular, at the local level, the partnership with the town hall of Villeurbanne which enabled us to benefit from the rooms free of charge to carry out the event, the hall of the CCVA (Centre culturel et de la vie associative) and the amphitheatre of the IUT Gratte-Ciel of the University Claude Bernard Lyon 1. At the national level, significant support has been given by Public Health France, but also by Isped (Institute of Public Health, Epidemiology and Development of Bordeaux) and EHESP (School of Advanced Studies in Public Health of Rennes). Lyon 1 University, with funding from the FSDIE and Crous de Lyon via “Culture Action” funding, enabled us to guarantee an event at reduced cost for participants joining the EuroNet network. Finally, we had the pleasure of benefiting from the moral support of the WFPHA (World Federation of Public Health Associations; World Federation of Public Health Associations).
We had the honor of welcoming for the opening of the congress Professor Agnès Buzyn, former Minister of Health and current Executive Director of the WHO Academy. Then, the town hall of Villeurbanne, through Mrs. Agathe Fort, deputy in charge of Health, informed us of the various commitments of the city in terms of Public Health. The afternoon was marked by an introduction to global health and the different fields of application, with the speeches of doctors Serge Breysse (NGO Solthis), Guillaume Dedet (OECD) and André Carvalho (International Center for Research on WHO cancer).

The second day began with a distribution of the participants, in accordance with their wishes collected upstream, in the international institutions of Lyon which responded present for this occasion. The workshops were able to take place that morning at Lysarc, the Mérieux

Foundation, Sanofi, and Médecins du Monde. Subsequently, the participants joined the IUT amphitheater for the afternoon devoted to the financing of global health projects and the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on global health with speeches by Dr. Shufang Zhang (The Global Fund), Professor Didier Pittet (University Hospitals of Geneva), Doctor Luis Pizarro (Unitaid), Doctor Christine Ortmans (EHESP), Simona Sevaresi (WHO) and Marco Simonelli (Istituto Superiore di Sanità; Higher Institute of Health in Italy).
The last day was marked by the ESC (European Scientific Contest; European Scientific Contest) which allows interns to present their internship project in front of a jury of co-interns, always with kindness.

In addition, we also carried out a social program which made it possible to create group cohesion and to discover the city of Lyon at the same time. The first evening was dedicated to Europe, with a Eurovision evening, well appreciated by the participants.
The second evening was devoted to discovering the culinary tradition of Lyon with a dinner in a typical Lyonnais Bouchon.
The visit of the city was left to the appreciation of the participants and the group spirit that the participants were able to weave during this event.
The spring meeting made it possible to re-establish the links between public health interns after two years of interruption of face-to-face congresses.

Final Remarks

This term was full of renovation and innovation for this Organisation and for its members.
In particular it was a year where the participation in the network grew considerably, thanks to the mitigation of the CoViD-19 pandemic and the success of the Spring Meeting in Lyon.
Also, the introduction of a monthly teleconference scheduled every third Tuesday, called EuroTuesday, where were presented various theme related to the Public Health by different eminent speakers, facilitates an attachment to the Network by the members.
Lastly, the Communication related to the Network permits to implement the participation in the EuroNet’s events, thanks to a persisten, organised and massive campaigns to all the social platforms where the Organisation was registered. In this regard, the efforts to create a new online group and channel, for sharing news and impressions between members, and to establish again a newsletter, where spread members’ researches and works, were essentials for sustaining participation and collaboration in the network.
Furthermore, the excellent work in the research and internship fields have attracted medical residents in public health from all over Europe and beyond, giving EuroNet MRPH an increasingly important position among different international institutions.
During the 2022, indeed, EuroNet has set new partnerships with the World Federation of Public Health Associations and the Youth Council of the World Health Organisation.
Therefore, it results evident the necessity to pursue the path tracked in this mandate for expanding this Network, thanks to the constant works of all the members of the Board and Leads 2022.
